OUR DEPARTMENT'S MISSION IS TO:

- ▲ Recognize the nine sovereign tribes who share our geographical borders as distinct political entities
- ▲ Support their self-governance efforts
- ▲ Work with their chosen leaders in a cooperative government to government relationship in order to improve the quality of life for all South Dakota citizens
- ▲ Identify, develop and/or coordinate federal state and local resources to increase partnerships between state and tribal agencies
- ▲ Introduce and/or support any legislation that would improve the quality of life for the Native American population in the state

LETTER FROM SECRETARY FLUTE

Mitakuyapi ka Mitakodapi,

As the Summer months end and we enter the Fall season, I reflect on how much I miss the dance celebrations, Indian horse relays, moccasin games, and other social events that bring us together. Although this pandemic has been challenging to all people, it is teaching us about ourselves and our communities. However, I sincerely hope this subsides so we can bring our drums together, sing together, and dance together again soon.

The South Dakota Department of Tribal Relations would like to thank the tribal leaders and tribal emergency managers that have participated in weekly calls with our agency and our SD Department of Health. These calls allow us to answer questions from tribal leaders and result in leaders receiving current and crucial information to share with their tribes and tribal communities.

I would also like to thank our SD Department of Health for cooperating with our tribes, assisting with PPE, Mass Testing Kits, Social Media Tool Kits, contributing to the tribes, and addressing their individual needs during this pandemic. It is commendable. We look forward to continuing our partnership with the Department of Health and assisting tribes.

We value all the presenters that shared their work and perspectives on Indian education at the first virtual Indian Education Summit in August. A special wopida to the Master of Ceremonies Whitney Rencountre II; we certainly look forward to seeing you again next year!

We would like to recognize Juliana White Bull - Taken Alive for her service as the SD Office of Indian Education Director. Juliana has chosen a new career path; we wish her the best of luck and anticipate working with her in the future. Juliana has made impactful contributions to the Office of Indian Education including the enhancement of the Wookiye Project, coordination of the annual Indian Education Summit, and recently the facilitation of the first virtual Indian Education Summit.

The position of the Director of the Office of Indian Education is open; for those interested you may apply online on South Dakota's BHR website. Click Here to view details and/or apply.

We also say Wopida to Senior Policy Analyst, Alli Moran for all her dedication and deeds during her time with our department. Alli will be missed and we wish her the best of luck with continuing her education and the work she does for her tribe.

Congratulations and best wishes for Chairman Delbert Hopkins who won the special election for the Sisseton-Wahpeton Sioux Tribe. We look forward to working with him.

Prior to the pandemic, our agency hosted monthly calls for tribes to share concerns and offer updates on the relevant issues of each respective government. The Department of Tribal Relations will resume an open conference call line once a month for our tribes beginning in October 2020.

Thank you.

David Flute - Cabinet Secretary

You Are Not Alone

22% of Native women and 12% of men reported to have attempted suicide.

WARNING SIGNS

- Threatening to hurt or kill self, or talking of wanting to hurt or kill self
- Looking for ways to kill self by seeking access to firearms, available pills, or other means
- Talking or writing about death, dying or suicide, when these actions are out of the ordinary
- Increased substance (alcohol or drug) use
- No reason for living; no sense of purpose in life
- Anxiety, agitation, unable to sleep or sleeping all the time
- Feeling trapped – like there's no way out
- Hopelessness
- Withdrawal from friends, family and society
- Rage, uncontrolled anger, seeking revenge
- Acting reckless or engaging in risky activities, seemingly without thinking
- Dramatic mood changes

WHAT YOU CAN DO

- Just ask: It's okay to ask, "Are you thinking about suicide?" Asking in this direct, non-judgmental manner can open the door for effective conversation.
- Keep them safe: If they are thinking about suicide, ask if they've thought about how they would do it.
- Help them connect: Rally support. Contact family, friends, teachers, coaches, church members and help them build a network. Share this number: 1-800-273-TALK (8255) or text Connect to 741741
- Listen: Don't dismiss or judge. You don't have to offer advice.
- Be there: Be there physically or by phone. Don't commit to anything you're not willing or able to accomplish. If you are unable to be present, talk with them to develop some ideas for others who might be able to help as well.
- Follow up: Check in on a regular basis. Continue to show you care. Have a plan in place if you can't reach them.

Suicide is the 2nd leading cause of death, and 2.5 times the national rate, for Indigenous youth ages 15-24.

THANK YOU, WÓOKIYE TEACHERS!

Twenty teachers and three pilot schools from across South Dakota participated in the 2020 Wóokiye Project this Summer.

The goal of Wóokiye Project is to create and implement a network of support that will help, aid, and assist teachers as they become proficient in using the Oceti Sakowin Essential Understandings (OSEU), to provide additional support in creating resources that support OSEU standards, and to seek out schools and teachers that are currently implementing OSEU standards.

More About the Wóokiye Project

STARTING WELL 2020

The challenge of reopening schools for the 2020-21 school year will require extensive preparation, coordination and communication. The Department of Education has created a webpage to house resources designed to inform school leaders as they make decisions about this process. School leaders should work in concert with local government and health officials and make decisions based on current conditions, considering the various aspects of student and staff well-being, including physical, academic and social-emotional.

Operation Lady Justice Task Force Opens Second Cold Case Office in Rapid City

August 4, 2020

Officials from the U.S. Departments of the Interior and Health and Human Services announced the opening of the second of seven cold case offices established through an initiative of Operation Lady Justice to investigate cold cases involving missing and murdered American Indians and Alaska Natives.

"Today, our shared presence, especially during these difficult times, is a demonstration of our commitment to keeping the national crisis of missing and murdered Native Americans a top priority," said Commissioner Hovland. "We must move upstream to improve prevention, intervene for those in crisis, and support individuals, families, and communities in need of healing."

BOARD ON GEOGRAPHIC NAMES SEEKS INPUT ON PROPOSED NAME FOR CREEK IN HUGHES COUNTY

June 30, 2020

PIERRE, S.D. - The South Dakota Board on Geographic Names (SDBGN) seeks public input on a name for an unnamed creek in Hughes County. There has been one name proposed for the creek: Crone Creek. The creek is located in rural Hughes County north of S.D. Highway 34 between 297th Avenue and 299th Avenue. The board is soliciting public input on the proposed name.

The SDBGN follows the guidance from the U.S. Board on Geographic Names. The guidelines state that preferred names be descriptive of topographic forms suggested by local history, folklore, or incident, or by associated natural life or other phenomena, including American Indian or other ethnic names appropriate to the area. If a proposed name duplicates another feature in the state, it should not create confusion by being in close proximity. Also if a personal name is proposed, it must be determined in the public interest to honor the person or family for historical or commemorative reasons, and that person must have been deceased at least five years.

Comments should be submitted no later than September 15, 2020.
